INTROUDUCTION

Back in 1984, a scrappy group of friends from far corners of the globe settled in a remote area of Utah's high desert … and took the first steps to forever changing the future for pets in shelters. More than 200 Million strays roam the streets globally, with many suffering from abuse, starvation, injury and sickness. $Shibstate is a project to help saving and improving the lives of defenseless and vulnerable street dogs around the world. We focus on providing resources to those living local to the dogs who are dedicated to helping these animals, typically using their own very limited means. We work to provide support to these local rescuers who often go without food and basic needs in order to help these at-risk dogs. We work to help underfunded and overflowing shelters. We also help facilitate transport of these street pups internationally as well provide emergency medical care, spay and neuter programs and vaccination programs. Stray Dog relies on donations and sponsorship to not only provide food and medicine for the dogs, but also to give them love, confidence and dignity. Stray Dog does not have a direct adoption program, rather we work with partner rescues.
